

Online Business Starter Guide

A practical beginner roadmap for turning an idea into a simple online offer.

StartScale • Learn. Build. Scale.

1. Start with a problem

Do not begin with a complicated business model. Start by identifying a problem people already want solved.

Problem

People I want to help struggle with: [PROBLEM].

Desired result

They want to: [RESULT].

2. Choose an offer

Possible offers include a digital guide, template, toolkit, consultation, setup service, editing service, research service, or other legitimate skill-based service.

3. Set up the basics

Create a simple product or service description.

Choose a payment platform.

Create a basic website or landing page.

Create one clear way for customers to contact you.

Test the purchase/customer workflow yourself.

4. Get your first customers

Start with people who are genuinely interested in the problem you solve.

Create useful educational content.

Use direct outreach only when it is relevant and respectful.

Ask satisfied customers for permission to use feedback as testimonials.
